Get email on the go with Quicksilver Webmail

Did you know that you can pick up your Quicksilver email from ANY computer with an internet connection, using our free online Webmail?

Webmail is great for checking your email from work, school, Uni, or when travelling away from home. All you need is your login name and password.

To log on to webmail, go to our homepage at www.quicksilver.co.nz, and login at the top left with your email login and password. If you're unsure what this is, please contact our helpdesk on 0508 QSILVER (0508 774 583) who will be happy to help.

Our Webmail system is also where Spam emails go when they are detected by our Spam Filters. These stay in your webmail for 14 days before being deleted.

Once logged in, you'll see a list of the folders you have, including the "Inbox" (where new email goes), and "SpamVault" (where Spam email goes).

If you'd like to still download these emails to your computer later, don't delete them from the inbox, and when you log in from your Outlook Express (or other mail program) on your home computer, the emails will be downloaded as normal.

Quicksilver's Webmail also has an address book to save time, so if you're travelling away from home, or you regularly use webmail, it's a good idea to enter all your regular contacts into the address book to save time later.

6 Quick Computer Security Hints

These days the security of your computer is more important than ever, particularly if you have a broadband connection which is 'always-on'.

Here are 6 quick tips to keep your computer safe whilst online.

1 - Use a firewall

We recommend the free version of Zone Alarm for home, or the Windows Firewall in XP (Service Pack 2 only). There are also several good commercial firewalls. See your local PC retailer for advice.

2 - Get the Latest Windows Updates

Microsoft often release security updates for each version of Windows, and it's important to make sure you get these installed as soon as they are available.

You can either visit <http://windowsupdate.microsoft.com> or turn on "Automatic Updates" in Windows XP/2000/ME. See <http://tinyurl.com/448o5> for information on how to turn this feature on.

3 - Be careful with Filesharing

'Peer to Peer' filesharing programs such as Kazaa are very popular, but many people don't realise that when you leave them running, others can download your files, using up your ADSL bandwidth.

Turn off filesharing programs if you don't want to use up your download quota,

4 - Install a Popup Blocker

Many popup ads that appear when you visit certain websites are designed to trick you into installing 'Spyware' (nasty programs installed without your permission). Install a popup blocker, such as the one that comes with our Slipstream software for dialup users (www.quicksilver.co.nz/slipstream) or the Google Toolbar from www.google.com

5 - Scan for Spyware

Install a Spyware detection program such as AdAware or Spybot, and scan regularly for nasties.

6 - Run antivirus software on your computer

Quicksilver's filters will pick up most viruses on your incoming email, but viruses can infect your PC in other ways, such as infected webpages. There are some good free antivirus programs available, such as AVG (www.grisoft.com) and Avast (www.avast.com), or talk to your local PC retailer for advice on good commercial programs which are suitable for your use.

Stay Safe!
